

Easter 2020

3rd April 2020

To all our Saint Martin's students,

Well done to those of you who have worked so hard this week. Studying, reading, revising doing online quizzing and learning will really put you at an advantage when you return to school.

The Easter holidays begin next week so those who have worked hard deserve a break. Your teachers will not be in touch or setting work for two weeks, however if you have not worked conscientiously this week, you need to spend your holidays catching up. The rest of you should relax a bit, although reading and watching some great educational movies or documentaries is also a good way to relax and learn at the same time.

A reminder that on the homepage of the school website there is a 'Helpful information' page and links to your email, St Martin's Online, a help desk and as well as other useful information.

At the moment we don't know when we will all be back at school; however, the new term will still begin on Monday April 20th. Although we will not be in church this Easter, it's still a special time. Easter is when we remember that there is always hope, that God loves us and all will be well.

Wishing you a happy, holy and healthy Easter break,

C. Wright
